Carver High School

Hello friends! We're here again to tell you the past and coming events at Carver.

The Mass Meeting of the County Wide P.-T. A. was held on Tuesday evening with a very large attendance. Items fully discussed were relative to the dental clinic, and hot lunch program. Many interesting things will develop from this meeting.

The first N. F. A. Federation meeting was held at the Buckingham Training School on Oct. 5, 1950. Norrold Watkins was elected President and McKinley Tanner, secretary of the Federation. The next meeting will be held at Campbell School in November.

We are sorry Mr. James Clay is absent because of illness, and hope he will return soon. Mr. Butler instructed them in History during Mr. Clay's absence, and the class was very interesting. In Biology, the 10th graders are studying the functions of life, and claim they are ready for those six weeks exams next week.

The members of the Senior Class welcome Charles Jeffries back, who spent his vacation in Arkansas, right on the Texas border. He reports its very nice in that section of the country and the people really are progressive.

Lelia Mozee is seen a lot with Edna Williams this week. I wonder why? Maybe it's because Edna made a cake this week and she wants a slice of it.

The Senior Class President, Gertrude Mickle, substituted for Miss Hood one day this week. Wonder if the students saw a hard time?

Ella Brown and Mattie Turner, both Seniors, were models in a fashion show Wednesday night. They really looked lovely.

Gee, folks, you ought to see our Physics lab. It has antiquated equipment. Incidentally, this so-called Physics lab is the temporary building built behind the shop.

Oh yes! When is this new school coming. This is October, you know.

The members of the ninth grade don't seem to like their new homeroom. Claude Lamberth said he found it a good quiet place to study when there is no work going on in the Ag. Shop.

There were many new try-outs for the Glee Club last Tuesday, particularly boys. Tell us those smaller eighth and ninth grade lads can sing. They'll make the future season in our Chorus.

A certain Junior girl was glad to have company over the week-end, one of our graduates who is attending Virginia State College. The girl is Bernice Lewis.

The Juniors are busy preparing a chapel program.

The N. H. A. girls are bringing a magician on Oct. 19 for our entertainment.

Our thought for the week: "Nature and books belong to the eyes that see them."

Cleveland Man Invented Traffic Light 36 Years Ago

CLEVELAND, O.—August 5 will be the 36th birthday anniversary of the traffic light—that instrument that has given many Americans high blood pressure.

According to the Cleveland Automobile Club, on that day James B. Hoge hung up the first traffic light at a now bustling east-side intersection in Cleveland.

Hoge's first signal was hand operated by a policeman stationed at the corner, who would ring a bell and turn the light on whenever the nearby firehouse received a call.

The signal had full approval of the chamber of commerce and a few months later a second set was installed. However, Hoge's success was cut short when the lights were declared unnecessary and impractical.

Uncle Sam Says

July 4, 1950, will be a day long to remember. It's the day we celebrate Independence and it will also be the day when the Treasury Department turns over to your State an exact reproduction of the historic Liberty Bell, the bell which signaled political freedom for our new republic. And your Government offers you the way to individual independence — or freedom from financial worry—through the U. S. Savings Bonds program. The real way to celebrate future security is by enrolling for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank.

Intoxicated Oyster Found Easy Prey For Shucker's Knife

NEW ORLEANS, La.—The oyster industry has come up with a new one—get the bivalves slightly intoxicated on carbonated water and they will open their shell and become easy prey of gourmets.

Another of the late devices is an electronic machine which literally says "phew" to spoiled oysters.

Dr. Herbert F. Prytherach developed the mickey finn business. He found by long experimentation that an oyster can get drunk as a boiled owl—even to the point of paralysis —after sipping carbonated water.

As a result of this sudden disposition, friend bivalve lets go and opens his shell — ready for the shucker's knife.

Prytherach also learned that stimulation of bivalves by chemical agencies will produce muscular relaxation and cause the shell to open wider. For this reason, the process of shucking oysters commercially by stimulation involves use of a trumbling machine as well as a few minutes immersion in either carbonated or chlorinated water.

The method promises to save considerable time and labor in the removal of meat from the oyster shell. It also reduces the percentage of cut meats, eliminated contamination by mud and sand and improves the keeping qualities of the meats.

The gourmets believe the oyster's brush with the carbonated water gives it an added taste zest.

The electronic machine is a little more complicated, but is even more useful in the commercial field, where one tainted oyster can ruin a complete canning cycle.

Scientists who worked on the development of this supersensitive detecting process outstripped nature by developing tests even more sensitive than the nose for ferreting out unfit seafood.

MISS CRALLE BRIDE OF MR. HILL

The marriage of Miss Frances May Cralle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Cralle, of Appomattox, to Charles Dudley Hill, son of Mrs. Jacob T. Hill, of Lynchburg, and the late Mr. Hill, took place Saturday at four o'clock at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. Edward Evans, in Lynchburg.

The Rev. W. M. Thompson officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a champagne lace frock over matching satin and a fingertip veil caught with a bandeau of illusion and orange blossoms. She carried a prayer book topped with an orchid.

Miss Lucille Cralle was her sister's maid of honor and wore a bouffant taffeta gown in old rose shade. She carried a bouquet of fall flowers.

Miss Susan Elizabeth Evans, niece of the bride also wore rose taffeta and carried the ring on a cushion.

R. Oakley Hill was best man.
